

Industrial logistics

Driven by ideas. Exercising knowledge. Working with energy.

Supply chain optimization and logistics strategies for a wide range of industrial sectors. Make your supply chain more competitive and sustainable with integrated solutions tailored to your business.

As the industrial sector diversifies and becomes more complex, having an experienced logistics partner is key. Whether you handle raw materials, components or large machinery, we have specialists who understand complicated supply chains.

Get support for the full orchestration of your projects, even in remote regions. You can mitigate risk through our collaborative platforms that help you manage global volumes, budgets, and performance data.

With a focus on sustainability, we offer transportation solutions that reduce your carbon footprint and increase supply chain efficiency.

Services are designed for sub-segments from special materials to conglomerates to energy infrastructure. When your project needs special care, you can rely on our logistics experts to meet every challenge, every step of the way.

360° visibility

Everything starts with the purchase order. When your project is six months down the road, you need monitoring that stretches from the PO to final delivery.

Our global platform offers end-to-end visibility and reporting that helps you manage vendors and customers, meet deadlines, and gain a clear visualization at each touch-point.

Proactive communication

There's no room for added obstacles while coordinating engineers, crews, and equipment delivery. That's why we set up a communication structure to deliver the important information you need, when you need it. Advance notifications give you the time to make adjustments and keep your supply chain on track.

Global network

With dedicated account management, you get standardized processes and technology around the world. Whether you need warehouse planning, freight consolidation, or a methodical implementation, our team has the know-how and resources to make it happen.

Net Zero Carbon

We make it easy to select sea logistics services that help you — and your customers — achieve environmental goals. Until alternate fuels or propulsion systems become available, our innovative approach lets you choose more environmentally aware transportation options.

Both KN LCL and KN Pledge offset carbon emissions by partnering with NGO's that support the UN's Sustainable Development Goals.
